

HEALTHCARE INFORMATICS SUPPORT

Customer demands are increasingly stringent. AI and evolving technology are changing how business is done. Artfully bridging the translation and execution of client requirements, technical capabilities, and regulatory guidance is the only path forward. The best product and technology alone do not always “win”. Delivering the best customer experience is no longer a luxury—it’s a lifeline.

Pintail Solutions delivers across healthcare informatics programs, including NIH-funded projects and SaaS services, integrating client requirements and technical capabilities. Pintail drives quality across every project and throughout every organization they engage with. Pintail has the leadership and execution expertise to define, translate, and deliver across clinical and technical teams.

SERVICE AREAS

- Program and Project Management
- Customer Relationship Management
- Technical Implementation
- Quality Management and Improvement

THE PINTAIL DIFFERENCE

The ability and skill set to “see the essence” of what clinical teams need and couple that with technical capability is critical. Translating that gap within a highly regulated environment while driving quality is paramount for delivering the expected impact. Whether it be technical product releases, genomic data integration and visualization, or AI implementation, our experts are dedicated to delivering success with every endeavor.

WHAT CLIENTS ARE SAYING:

“Pintail played a crucial role in helping the Regenstrief Institute establish and refine a sophisticated infrastructure for operating the NIH’s N3C Linkage Honest Broker platform. This groundbreaking initiative necessitated collaboration among multiple organizations to facilitate the privacy-preserving integration of COVID-19 data collected nationally from millions of patients. The successful implementation of this innovative project resulted in one of the swiftest large-scale, high-complexity projects in biomedical research to date.” - Umberto Tachinardi, M.D., Interim President and CEO
